Operating Plan, Budget Summary, and Map

GENERAL PROJECT OVERVIEW: Indiana Creek Aquatic Organism Passage and Restoration Project

The U.S. Forest Service, in cooperation with the Town of Breckenridge, will improve stream health, water quality protection, aquatic organism passage, and aquatic resource improvements where Indiana Creek crosses the Indiana-Pennsylvania Connect Road on the White River National Forest which will improve the Town of Breckenridge's municipal drinking water while maintaining long-term motorized access.

PROJECT SUMMARY:

The proposed work supports both organizations goals of protecting watersheds, healthy ecosystems and sustainability of our precious waterways. The proposed improvements will improve the Town of Breckenridge's municipal drinking water supply. This will be accomplished by replacing the ford crossing with an aquatic organism passage along with associated restoration work. This project is anticipated to:

- Decommission approximately 1000 feet of road within 100 feet of Indiana Creek; and reduce an estimated 0.7 tons of sediment to Indiana Creek per year.
- Relocate approximately 260 feet of Indiana-Pennsylvania Connect Road to a more sustainable, upland location.
- Restore and reconnect approximately 430 square feet of streambank habitat.
- Eliminate sediment mobilization into Indian Creek with each vehicular crossing.
- Eliminate vehicle chemical pollutants.
- Reduce sediment runoff by capping the road with aggregate.

OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE:

The U.S. Forest Service completed the environmental analysis and signed a decision memo in May 2019. The U.S. Forest Service will:

- Complete the crossing and road realignment design by April 2020.
- Work with Friends of Dillon Ranger District to procure materials and equipment rental prior to mobilization in August/September 2020.
- Construct and oversee construction of access road maintenance, a new aquatic organism passage, road realignment, and road decommissioning.

APPROACH:

Task 1: Site Assessment and Engineering Design

Task 1.1: Field data collection, LiDAR data & processing for topographic map, engineering design of crossing. This design process is being completed in-house by Forest Service engineering & hydrology with expertise in aquatic organism passage design. Estimated cost - $4,600.

Task 2: Procure materials, supplies, & equipment rental

Task 2.1: The Friends of Dillon Ranger District will procure project equipment rental, backfill material and pipe arch structure. Estimated cost - $59,360.

Task 3: Utilize the U.S. Forest Service’s Construction & Maintenance Crew along with engineering oversight to complete the aquatic organism passage installation with associated Best Management Practices.

Task 3.1: Reconstruction of Indiana Creek Road for access.

Task 3.2: Close the Indiana-Pennsylvania Connect Road

Task 3.3: Dewater Indiana Creek around the ford crossing for erosion & sediment control

Task 3.4: Install the pipe-arch

Task 3.5: Place the streambed material and streambanks within the pipe-arch & tie the newly constructed banks into the natural stream channel

Task 3.6: Rewater the Indiana Creek passing flow through the new streambed

Task 3.7: Backfill the structure and bring in fill to raise the height of the road

Task 3.8: Realign the road approach to create a 100-foot buffer between the road and Indiana Creek

Task 3.9: Cap the new road with aggregate to control surface erosion

Task 3.10 Decommission the redundant and unnecessary road segments to allow for revegetation and restoration; including reseeding. Total Estimated Construction Costs with construction oversight - $43,280

TERM OF OPERATING PLAN: TIMELINE

Anticipated approximate start and end dates for tasks are as follows:
